

Snake

Mary Jane Ford

Intro (Kazoo): [D] [G] [D] [G] [C] [G] [D]

Verse 1:

[D] On a [G] walk in the [D] park last [G] week, I [D] jumped to cross a [A7] na
And [D] underneath my [A7] airborne stride, a [G] slithering, glistening [A7] snak glide,

[G] Plunging in the [A7] shining water [D] fall. Vocal hold: [G] [D] [G] [C] [G]

[D] Under the [G] rocks, he [D] went to [G] hide, not [D] peeking out the [A7] ot
[D] Finding there a [A7] crevasse, cave; in [G] darkness there, coiled [A7] up to Him [G] self from crushing, [A7] booted human [D] feet. Vocal hold: [G] [D] [G] [C]

His [C] reputation: [G] Hated, feared. [C] Scary tales when [G] we were reared
[C] Prejudiced us [A7] when they warned of [D] toxic fangs with [D7] legless fo
The [C] reptile always [G] pictured [A7] as a [D] villain.

Kazoo: [G] [D] [G] [C] [G] [D]

Verse 2:

[D] It was a [G] snake that [D] tempted [G] Eve; [D] caused that she and [A7] A
Their [D] home, fair Eden, [A7] fruitful garden. [G] Merciless, no [A7] Father's [G] Saved them from the [A7] banishment for [D] ever. Vocal hold: [G] [D] [G] [C]

[D] Maybe [G] he is [D] poison [G] ous. One [D] bite could turn my [A7] flesh to
I [D] could get sick or [A7] even die. No [G] antidote, and [A7] it's goodbye.
I [G] will not stick my [A7] hand into the [D] water. Vocal hold: [G] [D] [G] [C]

More [C] likely, he's a [G] harmless snake. He [C] will not bite, my [G] soul to f
He's [C] lurking, ready [A7] in the creek, to [D] strike for food; the [D7] bugs he
The [C] skimmers and the [G] mating [A7] dragon [D] flies.

Kazoo: [G] [D] [G] [C] [G] [D]

Verse 3, 1st 3 lines only:

[D] In the [G] sun's bright [D] golden [G] beam, his [D] scales reflect a [A7] soft
I [D] thank him for the [A7] part he plays in the [G] dance of life on [A7] this fine
A [G] kindred spirit, [A7] creature of the [D] Earth.
Kazoo: [G] [D] [G] [C] [G] [D]